ABOUT

Away from Switzerland and the Vallée de Joux, the historical cradle of renowned watchmaking houses, it is in the Vexin Français Regional Park near Paris that B.R.M Chronographes watches come to life, in absolute tranquility. A picturesque setting, with landscapes of diverse beauty, ideal for nurturing and stimulating creativity throughout the seasons.

Between rolling roads and iconic sites of French history, this environment also offers perfect roads for car enthusiasts. It is in this idyllic setting that the brand, with its sporty DNA, found its inspiration.

"OUR AMBITION HAS ALWAYS BEEN TO STAND OUT BY CREATING UNIQUE, COLORFUL, AND BOLD PIECES."

Bernard Richards, Founder of B.R.M

HISTORY

A FAMILY LEGACY

Bernard Richards' journey with watchmaking began at the age of 14. His parents, who were jewelers, chose to extend their expertise to watches and established a high-end brand named Richards Zeger. Immersed in this family endeavor, Bernard developed a deep fascination with the world of horology.

He pursued education in watchmaking, micromechanics, and jewelry at various schools. As his experience and skills grew, he founded Bernard Richards Manufacture in 1986 and began producing clocks, watches, as well as pens and lighters for major international luxury brands.

WATCH WINDERS

A mechanical work of art inspired by an engine block

Just as an engine cylinder generates the power needed for movement, this watch winder houses your timepieces within a meticulously designed cylinder. Inside, your watch rotates on its axis, mimicking the motion of an engine in full operation, reminiscent of a piston converting energy into mechanical power.
