B.R.M CHRONOGRAPHES INTRODUCES THE V6-42-EV

First automatic watch in 42 mm
Movement with visible escapement

Faithful to its pioneering spirit and its DNA resolutely focused on mechanical performance, B.R.M Chronographes, the French watchmaking house awarded the Entreprise du Patrimoine Vivant (E.P.V) label, opens a new chapter with the V6-42-EV.

This creation brings together two innovations for the French manufacture: First automatic watch in 42 mm and a movement with visible escapement. The V6-42-EV once again illustrates the boldness and uniqueness of B.R.M Chronographes.

INTRODUCING A NEW DIAMETER IN THE V6 COLLECTION, OFFERING UNPRECEDENTED BALANCE

Since its founding in 2003, B.R.M Chronographes has built its reputation on exceptional timepieces inspired by motorsport, crafted from noble materials and assembled by hand. TThe V6-42-EV introduces an all-new 42 mm diameter for an automatic watch, a first for the manufacture's workshops. This unprecedented format offers the perfect balance between a bold wrist presence and everyday comfort, without compromising the identity of B.R.M Chronographes.

A VISIBLE ESCAPEMENT AT THE HEART OF THE DESIGN

Another innovation: the integration of a visible escapement. A central element of watchmaking mechanics, it reveals the precision of the movement and stands as an aesthetic signature of this new collection. "With the V6-42-EV , we wanted to take a new step in our pursuit of balance between technical innovation and visual identity. The visible escapement is both a demonstration of expertise and an opening towards a more contemporary aesthetic." explains Bernard Richards, CEO of B.R.M Chronographes.

A REDESIGNED DIAL

The V6-42-EV also stands out with a completely redesigned dial. Available in black, white, or a sunburst blue version, it emphasizes simplicity and legibility. The indexes, engraved and then hand-painted, create a subtle relief that captures the light. The metallic hands, all fitted with Super-LumiNova® tips, ensure optimal readability even in low-light conditions.
